

GetUsPPE: A Nationwide Grassroots Effort to Protect Frontline Workers

GetUsPPE is a national grassroots movement to get healthcare providers and essential frontline workers the personal protective equipment (PPE) they need to stay safe. Founded by emergency physicians, GetUsPPE maintains the largest database of PPE needs across the country and mobilizes donors, makers, delivery teams, and everyday citizens for collective action. Our coalition of volunteers works hard to efficiently distribute PPE to the people who need it most, at a time when they are fighting for us more than ever.

What is PPE?

Gowns

Gloves
(nitrile, non-powdered)

Goggles

Surgical Masks

Face Shields

N95 Masks

How can you help?

Spread the word about the PPE shortage and what people can do to help. We need donations of PPE from corporations and manufacturers. We need makers to produce PPE using our medically-approved guides. We need creative and collaborative partnerships to increase our impact. We need funding so we can purchase PPE and get it to the front lines, and build a robust team infrastructure.

“We are nurses. We’re not afraid of sick patients. We’re afraid of going to work and not knowing if we’ll be able to protect ourselves, our coworkers, our community or our families.”

- Julia Kersey, a trauma nurse who became sick two weeks into working on the COVID-19 unit and reusing PPE.

“You have saved lives. Whether that’s one mask at a time, one face shield at a time, know that you have saved lives.”

- Verlon Jose, one of the community leaders of the Tohono O’odham Nation in Southern Arizona, which received 10,000 units of PPE through GetUsPPE.
